

PHILOSOPHY AND THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION

A GUIDED LEARNING BOOK

BY
ROY L. LYON

COMPARATIVE RELIGION

2

PHILOSOPHY AND THE CHRISTIAN RELIGION

SECOND COURSE
COMPARATIVE RELIGIONS

Content by ROY L. LYON

Learning Activities by Roy L. Lyon and G. Alonzo Hogg

CARIB BAPTIST PUBLICATIONS

© Copyright 1987 by Carib Baptist Publications. All rights reserved.
Box 4255
El Paso, Texas 79914

Printed by the Baptist Spanish Publishing House
El Paso, Texas
BSPH Art. No. 72011
ISBN: 0-311-72011-0

4829-40

CONTENTS

SUPPLEMENTARY TEXTBOOK	4
PREFACE	5
MINISTERIAL TRAINING BY GUIDED STUDY	7
INSTRUCTIONS FOR USING THE STUDY GUIDE	8
 Introduction.....	 11
Lesson 1 The Christian Transition from the Jew to the Gentile	13
Lesson 2 From the Last Apostle to Constantine	17
Lesson 3 Augustine to Mid-Seventh Century (354-650)	24
Lesson 4 Thomas Aquinas and Medieval Influences	30
Lesson 5 The Bible, the Reformation and Philosophy.....	42
Lesson 6 The Seventeenth Century: Science, Philosophy and Religion	50
Lesson 7 The Enlightenment: Part I	56
Lesson 8 The Enlightenment: Part II.....	63
Lesson 9 The Nineteenth Century: The Evolution Revolution.....	69
Lesson 10 The Nineteenth Century: The Religious Atheists.....	76
Lesson 11 The Twentieth Century: Part I.....	83
Lesson 12 The Twentieth Century: Part II	93
 SELECTIVE BIBLIOGRAPHY	 103
A GLOSSARY OF TERMS	105

SUPPLEMENTARY TEXTBOOKS

All Levels:

Brown, Colin. Philosophy and The Christian Faith. London: InterVarsity Press, 1973.

PREFACE

Philosophy and the Christian Religion is the second study guide in the series "Comparative Religions."

The guide is designed to trace briefly the influence of philosophy on religion from New Testament times to the present.

The purpose is to show how generations of philosophical minds and movements have affected Christian thought of today.

Because philosophy influences religion significantly, we need to learn to deal with its problems and recognize its values. This course can help the student examine his beliefs in the light of current thinking. It should help give a better understanding of the evolving theories that have shaped present-day religious concepts. Studying great thinkers should awaken in each Christian the need to strengthen his beliefs. Firm, biblically-based convictions can provide a defense against the oncoming flood of non-Christian doctrines. The informed Christian should be able to draw value from the the philosophies of great thinkers through the ages and at the same time reject heresy.

Roy L. Lyon received the bachelor of arts degree from Baylor University in Waco, Texas, and the bachelor of divinity, and master and doctor of theology degrees from Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, Fort Worth, Texas.

Dr. Lyon pastored several churches in Texas, served as chaplain in the U. S. Army and taught Bible at Mary Hardin-Baylor College, Belton, Texas.

Appointed as a missionary by the Southern Baptist Foreign Mission Board in 1952, Dr. Lyon served in Mexico, Venezuela and El Paso, Texas. He contributed significantly to the work as director of city missions, seminary professor, seminary president and evangelist. In 1980 he became regional consultant for evangelism and church growth for Latin America. Dr. Lyon and his wife, Alma Ruth, retired in 1984 in Waco, Texas. They have six children.

Out of rich experience and broad background Dr. Lyon wrote this study guide, Philosophy and the Christian Religion.

MINISTERIAL TRAINING BY GUIDED STUDY

Ministerial Training by Guided Study is designed to introduce students on various levels of academic preparation to the Bible and related areas. This is not a correspondence course, nor the traditional lecture system, but a new approach in education. The goal of the programme is to make quality theological training available to all students. Family and church responsibilities and lack of academic prerequisites and finances prevent many men and women who have been called of God from improving their ministry through training. These obstacles can be overcome by an approach which emphasizes self-study and weekly small group discussions. The study guides are designed for students on three levels of preparations:

1. Students with some primary education
2. Students with some secondary education
3. Students with university qualifications

Although this course is designed primarily for pastors and ministerial candidates with no seminary training, laymen and lay preachers can also benefit from some of the courses. Pastors with divinity degrees might use some of the study guides as refresher courses while serving as leaders of study groups and conveners of the weekly seminars.

Study guides are used to direct private and group activities in the mastery of the content of a subject. They contain the basic content for each subject and recommend supplementary sources for a more advanced study. Questions are included to direct the attention of the student to the important facts in the lessons and to provide an immediate response to the material read. Weekly seminars of approximately an hour for each subject provide opportunities for the discussion of issues related to the subjects and their practical application in contemporary life. A teacher or tutor guides the seminar discussions, but the students from all three levels present and discuss their ideas. When students come to the seminar with a basic understanding of the lesson, the seminar can be dedicated to enrichment of the subject and to discussion of the practical use of the material in the life of the Church.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR USING THE STUDY GUIDE

Text and learning activities

The study guide is designed primarily for home study. When the guide is opened, the text appears on the left side of the page, and questions requiring an immediate response to the material read are on the right. The student should read a paragraph before reading and answering the question or questions for that paragraph. If there are no questions for a paragraph, he may wish to make a few notes on that paragraph and move on to the next. The questions and answers should be covered with a strip of paper (see following insert) until the paragraph has been read and the student is ready to answer each question. Then the cover sheet should be moved down the page far enough to enable the reading of the question and the writing of the answer. The answer according to the text appears immediately under the question. After the student has written his own answer, he may then compare it with the given answer. If the two are not the same, the paragraph in the text should be read again.

Home study exercises

A home study assignment appears at the end of each lesson. The study guide contains the basic content for each lesson, and the questions of the basic assignment are to be answered by all three levels. After reading the text and doing the learning activity on each page, the student should be able to answer most of the home study questions without further reference to the text. These questions are self-testing exercises. If a student is unsure of the correct answer, he has not learned adequately the material in that particular section, and he should review until he is sure that he understands the content. Some questions call for more extensive answers and require concentrated effort for mastery. The completed questions serve as a summary of the lesson and should be helpful as a review.

Students on Levels 2 and 3 are required to do supplementary assignments in addition to the basic exercises. The supplementary activities include sometimes a reading assignment in another book with questions to be answered.

Level 3 is required to do advanced assignments in addition to the basic and supplementary work. This work will vary according to the availability of library resources. Sometimes there will be questions over a parallel reading assignment in a recommended resource book. At other times, the questions will require independent or individual research. Bible dictionaries, encyclopaedias, and books on the subjects of the study guide are sources which should be consulted. A bibliography at the end of the study guide indicates where additional material may be found.

Seminar

It is suggested that the students of all three levels in a geographical area meet for an hour each week with a teacher or tutor to discuss the lesson with reference to—

1. problems encountered in home study in answering questions or in understanding the textual material;
2. the application of the lesson to the practical work of Christian ministry and conduct;
3. the significance of the lesson as a whole and its place in the total programme of ministerial training.

The fragmentary questions of the lesson may sometimes be answered without getting a picture of the lesson as a whole. It is also possible to learn the facts about Christianity without seeing their application in the life of the Church. The student is responsible for getting the detailed information of the lesson in his home study. Understanding the over-all meaning of the lesson and its practical application should be the goal of the seminar.

Some seminar questions have been included with each lesson. Their purposes are—

- to stimulate interest (some are controversial questions which have not been resolved by scholars);
- to guide in the beginning of the seminar discussions;
- to direct attention to problems related to the material studied;
- to require original thinking which will lead to suggestions for the practical application of the material.

Teacher or tutor

The teacher or tutor may offer other seminar questions which are more relevant in a given situation. He should feel free to use any approach he chooses as long as the discussion remains related to the material of the lesson. It is his responsibility to prevent the seminar discussion from departing from relevant issues.

The teacher may find that a brief test at the beginning of the seminar will be helpful. The test will encourage students to prepare more adequately their home study assignments and enable the teacher to evaluate the progress of each student. Two or three questions from the basic studies should be sufficient. Students who are not making satisfactory progress may need personal help and encouragement in preparing their lesson. They should not be overlooked!

LEARNING ACTIVITY

Use this sheet of paper to cover the learning activity on each page.

* * * * *

When you have finished reading each paragraph, slide the sheet down just far enough to expose the learning activity for that paragraph. If there is no activity, continue to the next paragraph.

Write your answers.

Then slide the sheet down farther to expose the suggested answers.

Compare your answers with the suggested ones. If they do not agree, reread the paragraph.

Continue to the next paragraph.

LEARNING ACTIVITY

Use this sheet of paper to cover the learning activity on each page.

* * * * *

When you have finished reading each paragraph, slide the sheet down just far enough to expose the learning activity for that paragraph. If there is no activity, continue to the next paragraph.

Write your answers.

Then slide the sheet down farther to expose the suggested answers.

Compare your answers with the suggested ones. If they do not agree, reread the paragraph.

Continue to the next paragraph.